

Michael A. Logan

DIRECTOR

“Clients view me as their “go to” attorney and a trusted business partner who delivers timely and high-quality legal counsel that helps them overcome challenges and navigate business disputes. Clients appreciate that I’m straightforward and direct — I want them to know and understand my opinion after we have a conversation. I’m also calm and measured. Fully prepared for any twist and turn in or out of the courtroom, I stay a step ahead and anticipate issues that will arise over the course of a legal proceeding. I always remain zeroed-in on advocating for my clients and advancing their interests. With more than three decades of experience, there is very little I have not encountered. I use that knowledge and experience to benefit my clients.”

A founding director of the firm, chair of the Litigation section, and the recipient of numerous honors from prominent legal publications and organizations, Michael Logan has more than three decades of experience representing clients in federal and state court. He counsels privately held businesses, financial institutions, publicly traded companies, and insurers in employment, tort, real estate, construction, energy, and complex business litigation.

All of Mike’s clients have the same goal: managing litigation to an effective result while minimizing the risk. When he approaches a matter he asks himself what he would want to know or do if he were the general counsel, risk manager or other decision-maker at the client company. The broad breadth of Mike’s practice helps him provide good counsel and advice to clients because he likely has had experience in most every area and with most every issue that arises as a concern.

Mike keeps clients’ budgetary concerns in mind at all times and strives to make the smartest and most economical decision in every case. Clients trust his honesty and his ability to determine when to settle and when to take matters to the courtroom.

Mike makes it a priority to communicate clearly and frequently with clients. His deep experience and wisdom combined with topnotch legal skills enable him to advise clients effectively and procure optimal outcomes.
