

Intellectual Property

Your company's most valuable intangible assets may well be your intellectual property. The attorneys at KRCL have the experience and insight needed to secure and defend your intellectual property rights and protect your business. We handle the full spectrum of IP complexity in federal courts throughout the United States and before the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). Our intellectual property focused legal services include:

- Patent Litigation (prosecution and defense)
- Trademark Prosecution
- Trademark/Trade Dress Litigation
- Trade Secrets
- Copyright Litigation
- Copyright Registration

Recent Lead Trial Counsel Representative Matters

- Defended a manufacturing client against allegations of patent infringement relating to electronic systems and controls associated with cash management products (Federal District Court in the Northern District of Texas).
- Prosecuted a manufacturing client's claims against a competitor for infringement of electronic systems and control patents associated with cash management products (Federal District Court in the Eastern District of Texas).
- Defended a trade dress infringement case filed against the client by Ford Motor Company (Federal District Court in the District of Arizona).
- Defended a health care software publishing client against claims of patent infringement of software patents (Federal District Court in the Southern District of Texas).
- Defended a publicly traded Fortune 500 product distribution client ($8 billion in annual sales) against claims that it distributed products manufactured by other, whose products allegedly infringed various patents (Federal District Court in the Eastern District of Texas).
- Defended a health care software publishing client against claims that its software infringed various software patents (Federal District Court in the Eastern District of Missouri).
- Prosecuted a trademark registration before the USPTO on behalf of a French manufacturer and subsequently protected the registered trademark by suing infringing medical clinics for unfair competition violations recognized by the Lanham Act (Federal District Court in the Northern District of Texas).